Singer/Songwriter Emi Meyer is proud to release the deluxe edition of her album Galaxy's Skirt on December 4. The album previously released in 2013 yielded placements on MTV's "Awkward" and TV Land's "Younger". The Deluxe Edition includes 2 bonus tracks - "Galaxy's Skirt (Soul Catalyst Remix)" and "If I Think of You". Of the Deluxe Edition, Meyer states "This album took me above my singer-songwriter acoustic vibe, and I am very excited to share the new bonus tracks with the world: "Galaxy's Skirt (Soul Catalyst Remix)" which has an urban-geisha mood and "If I Think of You" which captures the direction of my next album."

Emi Meyer was born in Kyoto to a Japanese mother and American Father. After moving to Seattle as a child, Meyer honed her vocal skills which eventually led her to win the 2007 Seattle-Kobe Jazz vocalist competition. She has gone on to perform at multiple festivals and collaborated with artists including Colbie Caillat, Yael Naim, Joe Henry, Brett Dennen and more.

Her debut album, Curious Creature came in 2009 which reached #1 on Japan's iTunes Jazz Charts leading her to be crowned as iTunes Japan's best new artist. Next came her critically acclaimed album Suitcase of Stones where she worked with Grammy Award winning sound engineer Husky Höskulds (Norah Jones and Sheryl Crow) and birthed songs that went on to be featured in commercials for Mitsubishi UFJ, Morgan Stanley, Dannon, Seiko, and Lexus. Her songs have also been featured in popular TV shows including MTV's "Awkward" and TV Land's "Younger".

Her latest album, Monochrome was released in Japan on September 2 and debuted at #1.
